

(347)-586-4581 ● New York City, NY ● ahnaf.taha@mastersny.org ● enoughtaha.github.io

Ahnaf Taha

Coder | Entrepreneur | Financial Enthusiast | Humanitarian

INNOVATOR

Presented WeClean to members of Congress and White House staffers as a winner of the 2016 ESA LOFT Innovation Award.

SKILLS

Coding in Python, Java, and Lua languages and web development using HTML/CSS/JS

Photo editing and creation of 2-dimensional art assets using Adobe software

INTERESTS

Long-standing interest in computer science, specifically app development.

Fascination with finance, frequently testing algorithms on Quantopian.

Aims to help provide equal access to STEAM-based education for students of all origins through nonprofit: Hackers With Heart.

CODER

WeClean | bit.do/WeClean

September 2016 - Present (Project in progress)

Winner of the 2016 ESA LOFT Innovation Fellowship.

Platform to help users keep track of trash in their area and contribute to the creation of effective laws and policies for curbing pollution.

ORGANIZATIONS

Hackers With Heart | Co-Founder

Founded June 2016

Founded and continuing to develop a non profit initiative to introduce computer science and STEAM-based curriculum to students and adults that would normally be unable to access such resources.

All Star Code | Goldman Sachs Cohort

Joined June 2016

Participated in six-week summer intensive at Goldman Sachs to learn programming and computer science concepts. Culminated into a final project, TweetSweep.

Breakthrough New York | Manhattan

Joined May 2012

Selected by and enrolled in a 10-year commitment preparatory program. Receiving guidance for high school navigation and college guidance while staying in contact with mentors and staff.

EDUCATION

The Masters School | Dobbs Ferry, NY

September 2014 - June 2018 (Expected Graduation)

Male Boarding Student Representative, Co-President of Computer Science club, Secretary of Students Against Destructive Decisions, Community Service Representative